Orientation programme for teachers

1963. SHRI D. B. CHANDRE GOWDA:
SHRIMATI KRISHNA KAUL:

Will the Minister of HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government have recently issued any guidelines to the State Governments to start orientation programmes for teachers;

(b) whether all the teachers are supposed to undergo an orientation programme every year to improve their performance;

(c) if so, what is the number of such institutes of education and training likely to be opened during the next two years; and

(d) to what extent the programme is likely to provide better education to the children?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF EDUCATION AND CULTURE IN THE MINISTRY OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (SHRIMATI KRISHNA SAHI): (a) to (c) A Programme of Mass Orientation of School Teachers to re-orient them in the new perspectives of the National Policy on Education, 1986, and to improve their professional competence, has been under implementation since 1986-87. Under this programme, it is intended to re-orient roughly 5 lac teachers annually during the years 1986-87 to 1989-90. No teacher is supposed to be oriented more than once under this programme.

Another Scheme of establishing District Institutes of Education and Training is being taken up from this year. One of the functions of the proposed Institutes would be to impart in-service training to elementary school teachers. However, even under this Scheme, teachers would not be undergoing in-service training every year.

The approximate number of District Institutes of Education and Training proposed to be established during 1987-88 and 1988-89 is 125 and 100 respectively.

(d) It is expected that properly oriented and trained teachers and instructors would be able to impart better education to children. The latter's education would also benefit with the kind of academic support which the proposed District Institutes of Education and Training are meant to provide to the Elementary Education System in other areas like curriculum, evaluation, educational aids, work experience, planning and management.
